

Euler Hermes: Changes of the working week in UAE

Dears,

In line with the official announcement by the UAE government to align the working week and weekend to international markets, our UAE office will adopt the changes. The UAE working week will be from Monday to Friday, with the weekend designated as Saturday and Sunday, with effect from Monday, 10 January 2022.

Our office in KSA will continue to operate as per the Saudi government working week.

This is a significant change for all of us, which we believe, will have a positive impact on our people, customers, partners and business.

We remain committed to serve you adapting ourselves to the new changes.
